Three lockups

Symbol

Where the name is already present nearby: favicons, stamps, details.

Symbol with wordmark below

The primary signature. Wordmark cap height and gap are equal.

Symbol with wordmark inline

For wide, shallow spaces: headers, footers, signage bands.

Clear space — one diamond height (X) on every side. PNG files include it.

Stacked — wordmark cap = gap = $0.14 \times$ symbol height, centred on the diamond's axis.

Inline — wordmark cap = $0.27 \times$ symbol height, gap $1.6 \times$ cap; baseline on the blade tips.

Minimum size — symbol 16 px / 5 mm wide · stacked 72 px / 20 mm · inline 160 px / 35 mm.

Never redraw, recolour outside the palette, stretch, outline or add effects.

Colour variants

Transparent artwork, SVG and PNG, in five inks. Black and white are for single-colour production only.

One gesture. A larger presence.

The symbol at supergraphic scale. Let the curves run past the edge, keep the contrast quiet and give the graphic its own space — never place copy over the diamond.

Rise — off-centre; the gesture climbs beside the copy.

Centre — on axis; the blades open past both edges.

Three tones: paper, taupe, dark. Fill fades from the diamond toward the blade tips.

Always tonal. Never the logo colours at full contrast, never with the wordmark.

Masters on every format

Each format ships in both crops and all three tones as layered SVG and full-size PNG.

A familiar rhythm

The symbol repeated on a brick lattice. Keep it tonal and leave quiet around words and images.

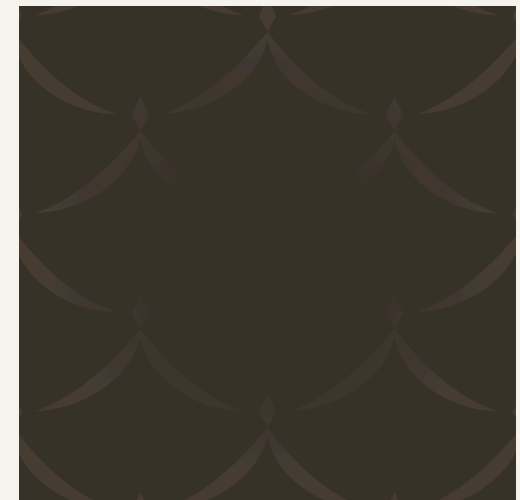

Column step — $1.22 \times$ symbol width. Row step — $0.48 \times$ symbol width.

Every other row shifts by half a column. Blade tips stop just short of the diamond below.

The seamless tile holds one full repeat; use it as a swatch or fill.

Quiet versions open the centre for a headline.

Two tones: paper and dark. Transparent tiles in sand, stone and earth.

Files

SVGs are cropped tight to the artwork for placement. PNGs include clear space. Everything is regenerated from scripts/brand in the website repository.
